BLOCKBAR is a high security seal of LeghornGroup family of barrier seals compliant with the security requirements imposed by ISO 17712:2013.

At LeghornGroup we are proud to offer the cheapest barrier seal available on the market, without compromising on quality and security.

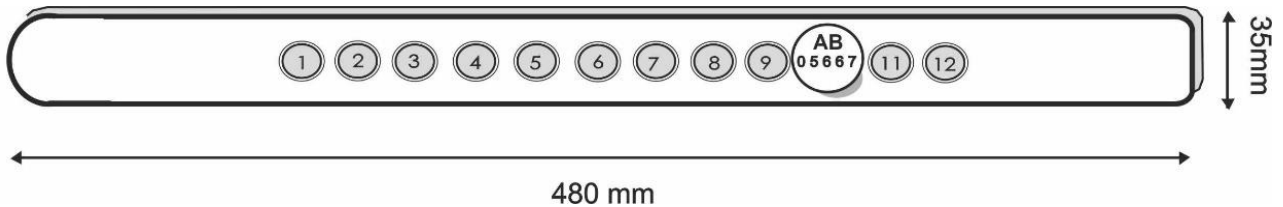

This barrier seal has been designed to prevent and deter any attempt at tampering by thieves or terrorists in the container transport business.

In the aftermath of the 9/11 disaster, the American institution US Customs & Excise has had a profound revision of security standards in its ports.

Among other changes, it is obligatory to seal with a high security seal all empty or full containers entering the United States.

Practically all containers entering the United States must be sealed with seals that comply with ISO standard 17712: 2013.

The following ethical principles and good practices set LeghornGroup apart from many other manufacturers:

- a) Since 1978 we keep a database of customization and numbering of each high-security seal manufactured by us.
- b) We guarantee that we will never produce seals with the same personalization and numbering as requested by one of our customers.
- c) We guarantee that we never sell high security seals as blank seals, without any personalization and numbering.
