

ULTRA-DESTRUCTIBLE LABELS

PROTECTION – CONTROL - IDENTIFICATION – TRACKING

LeghornGroup since forty years specialized in tamper prevention systems.

Among security labels, ultra-destructible labels cover a very important role. They completely flake off when attempting to remove them from the surface to which they are attached.

We are able to manufacture also very small labels: a few millimeters of size or diameter.

This type of labels is very much used by mobile and tablet repair and service centers, but are also used in the food, plumbing or banking sectors.

We can produce them in sheets of any size, with any shaping on demand, or in reels

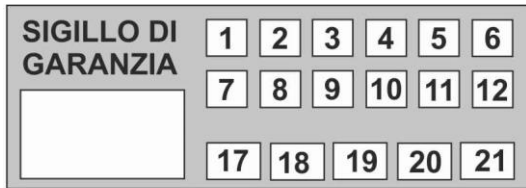

Label face custom printing can also include bar code or a progressive numbering, and they can also be manufactured by embedding RFID technology.

In this case, they would be named ultra-destructible RFID labels.

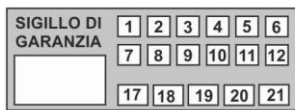

The material used to produce ultra-destructible labels is extremely fragile and breaks into hundreds of fragments if you try to remove them.

Ultra-destructible labels are applicable on most surfaces.
